Smith Announces Beginning Of Weekly Radio Broadcasts

Regular weekly broadcasts from the University will begin Saturday, Nov. 27, Prof. Elden T. Smith, acting head of the department of speech, said today.

Broadcasting from the radio studio on the ground floor of the Administration Building, the speech department will present a half-hour show each Saturday at 8 p.m. over WFIN, the Findlay station.

It was impossible to schedule programs for three times each week as the University has in past years because of the great demand for radio time, Professor Smith said. The Saturday time may be more convenient than week-day time for the majority of student listeners, he added.

The first broadcast, the Saturday following Thanksgiving, undoubtedly will be produced by V-12 students since civilians will not be on the campus.

The service men's band will probably play, there will be an explanation of the V-12 program, and V-12 students will participate in the entire program.

Other programs throughout the year will be student-produced. They will consist of music, drama, forums, and round table discussions.

At the first Bowling Green radio programs several years ago, participants went to the Findlay station to broadcast over WFIN. Then wires were installed so that broadcasting could be done directly from the University studio.

The programs go on telephone lines to Findlay where they are rebroadcast.

Last year the studio was renovated and redecorated to be more suitable and attractive for broadcasting activities. The rooms are lined with soundproof composition board, green carpets cover the floor, and monks cloth draperies are at the windows.

The control room is a miniature of those found in large studios.

A meeting of V-12 students to further plans for the first program will be Thursday at 7 p.m. in the radio studio, Miss Margaret Hiltz, graduate instructor in charge of the broadcasting said. Everyone interested in the production of a dramatic show, the second in the series which will be December 4, should meet Monday at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Newburger Visits Counties

Dr. Maurice Newburger, head of the Bureau of Juvenile Research, visited several nearby counties in the past week.

Accompanied by Dr. W. C. Hoppes of the reading clinic, he examined a number of children in Payne, Ohio, and Putnam, Hancock, and Seneca counties. With Miss Charlotte Skene of the Speech Department, they examined two children from Paulding county.

Dr. Newburger and Dr. Hoppes plan to visit the schools and court houses at Sandusky, Ohio, and Williams and Seneca counties this week.

There will be a meeting of juvenile advisors and probation officers at the Falcons Nest this week, and seven education talks to business and professional groups have been scheduled by Dr. Newburger.

Mrs. Pearson Will Be Secretary To Deans Harshman, Overman

Visitors to the offices of Deans J. R. Overman and Ralph G. Harshman are greeted by a new face these days. This charming newcomer is Mrs. Lucile Pearson, who has been employed to replace Miss Ruth Loudenslagel.

Mrs. Pearson was graduated from Ohio University, class of 1943, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Secretarial Subjects.

Her hobbies are playing the piano and taking and finishing photographs. She wants most of all to learn to fly, "... and I'm going to after the war is over," she added. This may be due to the fact that her husband is a navigator in the Army Air Corps. He is stationed in Australia.

Mrs. Pearson makes her home with her parents who live at 268 South Summit Street. She is a native of Wood County, "... so of course I don't remember my first impression of the University. But I'm sure I'm going to like my

Hudson To Speak To Students On Post-War Internationalism

Manley O. Hudson, "one of the most important and distinguished men ever to speak at Bowling Green" will talk on "International Organization After the War" to the student body at the Armistice assembly tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the University Auditorium, according to Prof. John Schwarz, assembly committee head.

Coming from Cambridge, Mass., Mr. Hudson's speech will be of increased importance because of his authoritative knowledge of world affairs.

"This topic has added significance due to the recent Moscow Conference, which provides for international cooperation after the war," Mr. Schwarz stated. Mr. Hudson will bring his impression of the point of view of the entire world.

He is a member of the Permanent Court of International Justice, Permanent Court of Arbitration, and Legal Secretariat of the League of Nations.

The assembly will be open to the public, and all civilian students and service men are urged to attend.

A question period will follow Mr. Hudson's speech for those who can remain. The following class schedule will be in effect:

8:00- 8:30
8:40- 9:10
9:20-10:00
10:10-11:00 (Assembly)
11:20-11:50

Estimates To Be Given Tuesday, Wednesday

Nine weeks estimate grades will be available from instructors next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Students may obtain estimate cards from the Registrar's office on Monday, to be presented to the instructors for estimates.

Three Civilians Transfer To V-12

Three students who were registered with the civilian program from September 13 to November 1 have been transferred to the V-12 Unit.

They are Ronald Waugh, Bowling Green, William Gerhardt, Bloomdale, and William Whelan, Cuyahoga Falls.

Alpha Xi Delta Wins Cup

Alpha Xi Delta again has been awarded the Esther Russell scholarship cup.

Given to the sorority with the highest point average, the cup was presented last week at an inter-sorority sing to Mary Jane Wilson, Alpha Xi Delta president, by Ann Koch, president of Panhellenic Council.

The award was based on averages for the second semester of 1942-43. These averages were computed in the Registrar's office on a basis of the membership list submitted by each sorority.

This is the second consecutive semester that Alpha Xi Delta has won the cup.

The winning point average was 2.881. The remaining six sororities ranked as follows:

Alpha Phi	2.822
Delta Gamma	2.816
Gamma Phi Beta	2.773
Las Amigas	2.746
Alpha Epsilon	2.740
Phratra	2.513

Presented by the former Skol sorority several years ago, the Esther Russell cup is awarded in the middle of each semester.

Six Compete In Extemp Contest

Three service men and three coeds will compete in the second series of extempore-discussion contests tonight in the Rec Hall.

The topic of the discussion will be "Is the New Deal Endangering Free Enterprise?" Each of six contestants will speak for five minutes on this general topic, and then will participate with his opponents in a 30-minute round table discussion.

Speakers and their topics are: Ann Antypas, freshman, "Rugged Individualism;" Andrew Rehbein, A.S., "Business Under the New Deal;" Mary Jane Lloyd, sophomore, "Changes in Public Thought Upon Freedom of Enterprise;" Mary Ann Koeppe, freshman, "The Case for Centralized Control and Planning;" Pvt. Merritt Van Fleet, "The Dangers of Paternalism;" Dick Conn, A.S., "Is There a Happy Medium?"

Dick Conn, Merritt Van Fleet, and Mary Jane Lloyd were first, second and third place winners in the October contest. They did not, like the other three, participate in preliminaries last week.

Andrew Rehbein, Mary Ann Koeppe, and Ann Antypas were winners of the preliminaries.

Winners will receive five, three, and one points toward the sweepstakes award to be given to the student with the greatest cumulative score at the end of the semester.

The first-place winner will also receive $2.50 in war stamps.

Miss Charlotte Skene and Miss Margaret Hiltz, of the speech department faculty, and the Rev. Robert Bulkley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will judge the speeches.

Prof. Wayne S. Huffman, Prof. B. L. Pierce, and Prof. Samuel N. Woolsey, will judge the discussion.

Key Schedules Sophomore Pix

Sophomore Key pictures will be taken today and Thursday from 1 until 4:30 p.m., according to Helen Pugh, managing editor of the Key.

Students are asked to meet in the rear of the auditorium, and the pictures will be taken in small informal groups.

Padded covers for the annual can still be purchased in the Key office from 3 until 5 p.m. every afternoon this week. The price is 25 cents.

Key staff meeting will be held every Monday at 6:30 p.m., Helen Pugh also announced.

Lt. Comdr. H. G. Kipke Visits, Inspects Entire V-5 Unit

Ranking Bowling Green as one of the top two schools in this Navy V-5 area, Lieutenant Commander H. G. Kipke visited the campus Monday to inspect every aspect of the V-5 unit.

Comdr. Kipke is in charge of the Detroit regional office of the Naval Air Primary Training Command under which there are eight Ohio and Michigan schools with V-5 units.

Accompanied by Lieutenant Commander A. R. Gildea, Medical Officer; Lieutenant I. D. Williamson, Athletic Director, whose home is in Bowling Green; Lieutenant R. S. Wilson, Flight Officer; Lieutenant H. F. Gross, Ground School Officer; and Ensign S. G. Pew, WAVE Supply Officer, Comdr. Kipke made one of the monthly inspections.

"This unit has been very aggressive, and the facilities have been tops," Comdr. Kipke stated.

"We have had better cooperation from Bowling Green than any other campus. As long as there are CAA-WTS units, Bowling Green will continue a V-5 program."

The Navy's 17 Flight Preparatory Schools and 90 CAA War Training Schools, including six flight instructors' schools, as part of the Naval Air Primary Training Program, is under the direct command of Rear Admiral Elliott Buckmaster, U.S.N., Chief of Naval Air Primary Training.

Its other units consist of five Pre-Flight Schools and 14 Naval Air Stations, scattered throughout the United States. Commander John E. Harlan is Superintendent of Aviation Training for the Command.

Women Leaders Given Banquet

The Leadership Dinner, begun in January of 1942 by Dean Audrey K. Wilder and the members of WSGA, will take place at the Women's Club on Wednesday evening at 6:30. Mary Helen Fretts, Dean of Women at Ohio Wesleyan University, will speak to the group on "Leadership in 1943."

Banquets of this type have long been common on other Ohio campuses. The purpose is to afford recognition to those women selected to fill posts of importance in campus affairs. A feature of the evening will be the signing of the guest book, which has been kept since the first of these dinners.

Approximately 95 guests will be present at the dinner. Members of the Administration and their wives who will attend are: Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Prout, Dean and Mrs. Arch B. Conklin, Dean Audrey K. Wilder, and Dr. Leabelle Ross.

Campus housemothers are also invited. They are: Mrs. Jesse J. Currier, Alpha Xi Delta; Mrs. Pauline Kincaid, Delta Gamma;

Servicemen Offered Book

Following the decision of the Key staff to devote a large section of the 1944 book to campus military activities, the yearbook's business staff today begins a week's selling campaign among V-12 and V-5 students.

Offered at the reduced student price of $3.50 to men in service on or off campus, the book also will come in a special deluxe padded cover, gift of the staff to service men.

Orders will be taken Saturday forenoon at a table in the Well, and in the Key office on the second floor of the Administration Building from 1 to 5 Saturday afternoon. Orders will be taken Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in the Well.

To encourage early ordering, the special reduced price will be in effect only until January 1. After that time the price to men on the campus will be $4.00, without the deluxe cover.

Features of this year's book will appeal to V-5 and V-12 students even though they previously have not been enrolled here, according to Jean Van Horn, Key business manager. "The complete picture story of activities of the two groups, as well as campus scenes, will serve as a memory book of this part of their military training," she said.

Lt. Robert E. Jones
Lieutenant Jones is Resident Naval Officer of the Bowling Green Navy V-5 unit.

Negro Soloist Will Lead Sing

Walter Anderson, Negro singer from Cleveland, will lead an all-campus sing Saturday evening in the Falcons Nest.

Sponsored by the YWCA, the sing is for all civilian and service students.

Mr. Anderson lead community singing at the YM-YW conference at Lake Geneva, Wis., last summer which was attended by several Bowling Green students.

"There is something about 'Andy' that makes you want to sing and sing," said Carol Allison, executive secretary of the campus Y.

A graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and a former teacher at Wilberforce University and Kentucky State College, Mr. Anderson has presented concerts throughout the Middle West.

Another Day

By BETTY ROSECRANS

The new mother turned her face away from the window toward her baby son. Through the closed window the din of factory whistles, church bells, and shouting voices came to her ears. "Still celebrating the Armistice." This thought came into her weary mind and stayed there for a long time—as if she were too tired to form another.

Gently touching the head of her eight-hour old son as he lay cradled in her arm, she said, "My poor baby. So tiny to be half an orphan. So small to be born into this upset world. I hope this is a good omen—you being born on the day that the Armistice is signed. I pray that you shall never know the horrors of a world at war."

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Michael," said the nurse bustling into the room. "Is there anything I can do for you before I go off duty? Your new nurse will be here soon."

"No thank you, Miss Vesta, everything is all right," smiled Mrs. Michael.

Miss Vesta arranged the window shades, smoothed the bed and darkened the room. Leaving her patient she went down the hall to the telephone.

"Main 3414 please . . . Hello, Helen, this is Irene . . . Yes, I just got off duty . . . No, it was a boy; a seven pound boy . . . Awfully cute little fellow . . . Poor Mrs. Michael, such a young girl to be a mother . . . Yes, and her husband lying dead over there in France someplace . . . That's a lot for a young wife to go through, isn't it; the death of her husband and the birth of her baby all inside of a month? . . . And the Armistice signed . . . Can't see as how the Armistice can make much difference to her . . . Well, Helen, shall I meet you at five o'clock? . . . By the drug store? . . . All right . . . Goodbye."

"Happy birthday, Tommy dear," said Mrs. Michael as her son came downstairs to breakfast. "I just can't believe that you're twelve years old. You're growing up so

Men Invited To YW Dance

The newest organization on campus, the Campus'Teen, will open its doors to all service and civilian men for the first time Sunday at 7 p.m. All men are invited to the Recreation Hall for an evening, admission free, of entertainment.

Hostesses for this and following occasions will be chosen from the YWCA membership only.

Entertainment for this first "Serviceman's Openhouse" will include games of all sorts and ping-pong. Light refreshments will be served.

In the future, the Campus'Teen will be open on Sundays for the benefit of servicemen who feel the need of entertainment and desire a place to go where they can make themselves feel at home, talk to someone about their latest joys and troubles, and enjoy themselves.

Saint and Miles Co-Star In Play

Eva Marie Saint, Joanne Jones, and Phil Miles will star in the University Players' presentation of "Personal Appearance" Thursday and Friday, November 18 and 19.

This three-act play is a comedy in direct contrast to the first dramatic production of last season, Maxwell Anderson's "The Eve of St. Mark," a war story with several scenes on the battlefield.

"Personal Appearance" is the story of a beautiful movie star, Carole Arden, who is making a tour of the country and is stranded in a combination filling station-tourist home. Miss Arden's one weakness is the inability to keep from becoming infatuated with every handsome man she meets.

Amusing complications begin when she decides to take one of the owners of the filling station back to Hollywood with her.

Others in the cast are Marie Powell, Yvonne Ford, Bette Root, Margaret LeFevre, and three V-12 students, John Wiemann, Earl Bankey, and C. Robert Smith.

"Thanks, Mother. Gee, I'll have to hurry or I'll be late for school—again. And you know what Miss Picklepuus said, I'd have to stay in for an hour after school."

"Hush, Tommy, don't be disrespectful to Miss Lehman. Your breakfast is ready. Now just sit here and eat while I go in the living room for a minute."

A few minutes later Mrs. Michael returned to the kitchen carrying three colorfully wrapped packages. To these Tommy turned all his attention, ignoring his oatmeal and toast. "Gee, Mother, what a nice tie—but I only have to wear it on Sundays, don't I? And a sweater; boy, I'm going to wear that to Mary Jo's party tomorrow. Gee Whiz, and a basketball, too. Gosh, Mom, thanks loads for everything!"

"You're welcome, Tommy," smiled his mother. "And now I have something else for you. Twelve years ago your father wrote you a letter. I have never given it to you because I thought you were too young to understand it. But you're twelve years old now, Tommy, and quite far along on the road to growing up. Here, I'll read it to you and then I want you to put it away and keep it."

Another Armistice Day . . .

Another Armistice day; another war year. Irony? Perhaps so, but now is no time for us to think of irony.

They signed a peace treaty on this day 25 years ago. Today we are far from a peace treaty. We may realize that fact, but are we helping to get closer to it? Will we be able to say in a few years when we celebrate a real and lasting Armistice, "I helped make this possible."

Or are we merely talking? We may jest at the job THEY did in the last war; the job THEY did on the peace treaty. We may be full of self pity because our loved ones have to fight another war. We may feel that we should blame someone; just who, we are not sure.

"After all," we say, "This is not our fault." Perhaps not, but in a democracy such as ours we must learn to accept this responsibility given us and do the best job possible.

Ask yourself this question. "Am I doing the best job possible? On this Armistice Day, can I say that I am doing all in my power to help the boys Over There with the magnificent job they are doing?"

Only when this end has been accomplished; only when each and every one of us has done all that is possible for us to do to help, can we ever hope for a real and true Armistice.—PS

A Student Government . . .

Student Council ordinarily means "governed by the students." In the past it has not functioned in this way on our campus. At the present time a committee has been formed to revise the constitution of the student council so that we can have a government ruled by the students.

Under the new system, the council will be more representative, and will include the V-12's and V-5's, as well as civilian students. It will attempt to abolish the politics that have crept into former student governments. In this way, prejudiced actions can be controlled.

The new program is being set up with an eye to the future. It will not only cope with the present situation, but will also plan for a post-war Bowling Green State University, a campus with an increased enrollment.

This new plan will centralize the power of campus organization. Instead of having the power for one election in the hands of a first group and the power for another election in the hands of a second, the new students council will control campus activities.

The creation of a new men's union is also one of the plans. This union will correspond with the Women's Self Government Association.

In the next two issues the Bee Gee News will print the new constitutional amendments and every student, civilian and military, will be asked to vote on them so that they can be put into effect soon.

What No Serenades? . . .

The V-12's are here as college students. They receive the same benefits as the civilian group. College functions are built around their academic activities. The civilians are asked to treat the Navy men and Marines as fellow students.

And yet, when an old college tradition, such as serenading, is brought to the front, it is balked. The sororities have tried in the past weeks to keep alive some of the practices that were followed in peace time.

These serenades tend to remind all of us that there still remains some of the good fellowship and sentimentality that used to predominate on the campus.

It is another way for the sorority girls to make the man feel at home on our campus, but they are met with opposition in the form of fire drills.

How, then, can we be expected to treat these men as college students if we are not permitted this tradition?—PS

A Few Lines Of Thanks . . .

A few lines of thank-you to those who served on the Homecoming committees for the grand job you performed last week-end.

Knowing that this was not a real "homecoming" year, you did all in your power to make it enjoyable for the few who returned to their alma mater.

Again, thank you for a fine celebration and let's hope that next year we can "shoot the works."—PS when I do get home we'll have so much fun together. You, your mother, and I. We'll have a whole lifetime ahead of us to enjoy living. That's one of the reasons I'm over here in France fighting—so that we can enjoy life. You know this war is a sort of settling up affair. It's going to settle all the accounts of the world for years and years to come. In fact this war is the war to end all wars. And that is one of the reasons I'm glad that I'm here fighting in it. Because I know that I am helping to make the world safe for you to live in.

Goodbye for a while, My Child.

Mrs. Michael walked across the room to her desk and sat down. From her purse she took two envelopes. One was a letter she had received from her son the day before. And she read . . .

Dear Mother,

This is my birthday letter to you. I'm sending it V-Mail in hopes that you get it around November the eleventh. Another birthday—and another Armistice Day. November the eleventh has played quite an important part in the years of our lives.

I always liked my birthday because it always seemed as if I had picked out one of the most important days of the year to be born. I always used to like to think that everyone was helping to celebrate my birthday as well as the Armistice. Another reason that I like my birthday is that you have always made them such a swell time. The roller skates when I was ten. The letter from Dad and the basketball when I was twelve. The chemistry set when I was sixteen. The tux when I was twenty and the car when I was twenty-two. You've given me everything, Mother. A home, a Mother, and a living memory of my Dad.

I don't know when this war will be over. But when it is, this time we're going to be sure that it will be over forever. Our Armistice is not going to be one that we will be ashamed of in twenty-five years. But it will be one that we will celebrate forever.

Goodnight. And thank you for being my Mother.

Your loving Son.

Mrs. Michael put the letter along with the telegram from the War Department back into her purse.

TERRIFIC TAPPERS . . .

Ervin Potts has got some competition headed his way, but definitely! Yes sir, chillun, and I might add that Mr. Competitor is pretty good, just ask anyone who has seen him dance . . . Maybe you've seen that slight male critter hanging around the Nest, or walking down the campus with a bottle of Pepsi in his hand. That's right, you've guessed it . . . Gary Harris is slowly proving that Mr. Potts isn't the only one who can tap dance around BGSU . . . Combination would provide some real entertainment, Mr. Potts . . .

NOW EVELYN . . .

Hysteria reigned in Doc Cook's class the other day when Evelyn Leach hobbled up to the board holding unto a part of her person that was definitely not her leg and complaining about her sore knee . . . and how about Norm Kniesley trying to figure out what Doc meant when he put "Ha-ha" after question three . . .

McCANN THE MAGNIFICENT . . .

Whose picture is that we find all over 310, Delta Gamma . . . And why is it that Jane M. keeps singing the Marine Hymn all over the place . . . Could it be the real thing, hm? . . .

CAPTAIN, COW, CORPORAL . . .

A little late but—Captain Joe Anastasio and Corporal Clarence Boggs were out riding in the Captain's formerly NEW blue convertible about a week ago . . . They rode down a dark, dirt road (none seem to know whether or not headlights were on) when suddenly BANG, and the car was stopped by, of all things, a cow . . . It seems the Corporal got out to find the trouble, the cow didn't like his looks, 'cause the Corporal was "floored" in just a few seconds . . . So there they were—the Captain, the cow, and the Corporal . . .

MARITAL MAGIC . . .

A tradition of the Alpha Phi Women's Fraternity has been carried out by the Beta Omicron chapter here . . . Each Alpha Phi bride will wear a gold bracelet on her wedding day . . . Fay Kreilik was the Alpha Phi Bride who initiated the custom here . . .

FADS AND FANCY . . .

What's this we hear of the Alpha Phi's getting pickled—we mean eating pickles every night before they retire . . . And the Delta Gamma's trying to get rid of that phoney Italian accent . . . And the Alpha Xi's having loads of fun with their Yo-Yo's (even in Papa Currier's Journalism class?) . . .

SINGING IN THE NIGHT . . .

Bouquets to the instigator of that beautiful freshman serenade . . . And bouquets to the enthusiastic freshies . . . Looks like Shatzel is going to turn out a bumper crop of BG brains and beauties again . . .

IT MAKES US THINK OF OLD TIMES . . .

When we hear the fellows beating it out on Monday nights. The servicemen's band is getting better and better. Drop in and listen . . . When kids start talking about shopping for Christmas . . .

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

You could get a double-dip cone—any flavor—for a nickel? . . . Everyone wore saddle shoes? . . . We buzzed to Toledo after dances? . . . It was against the rules to dance in the Nest on Sundays? We have the Service men to thank for that. Morale, you know . . . The women stared when they saw a uniform? . . .

camp to campus

From Fort Meade, Md., Pvt. Don Cunningham has written to Dr. Gilbert Cooke a letter of which portions will be used in this column. " . . . Part of this camp was taken over by the Army Ground Forces. They are making a personnel replacement center out of the place. Henry Chapaton and Paul Stark are here and should be shipped out soon . . . Jim Ludwig is also around Washington as are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wheeler . . . Dale Good was married in San Diego this past July. Mike Kormas is still with the ferry command . . . Meade is a very nice camp. We are only 18 miles from Baltimore and 22 miles from Washington. I came up here as a clerical but at the present I am assigned to a searchlight battery as a line non-commissioned officer."

Sgt. Gordon Herwig, who finished his freshman year in 1941 and joined the Army in July of the same year, writes from Sicily that he still plans to return to Bowling Green to finish his pre-medical course.

Sgt. Herwig has been through six battles in North Africa and Sicily, having fought at El Goutar, Mateur, Bald Hill and Bizarte in North Africa and in the five-day battle of Randazzo in Sicily. He is with Co. A., 47th Infantry, Ninth Division, an amphibious outfit. He was also in the landing at Casablanca.

A press release from Roswell Army Air Field, N.M. states that Second Lieutenant Robert Ertley is learning to fly the big "Flying Fortresses" at this field as a student in the four-engine pilot transition school here. He received his wings recently at Ft. Sumner.

Dale Van Meter is now enrolled as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Forces at Maxwell Field, Ala. Here he is receiving nine weeks of intensive military, physical, and academic training preparatory to begin his actual flight instruction at one of the many primary flying schools.

Sgt. Harold Long is in the infantry and stationed in England. The two things he misses most are the University and his wife, the former Lois Fisher, '42.

Q.M. 3/c Hugh Nott is on active duty with the Pacific fleet since last February on the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Chickasaw.

Ohio Wesleyan To Sew-Up The Falcons Grid Season

Miami Redskins Too Much For Shattered Falcons

The Miami Redskins proved too much for the Falcons last Saturday afternoon at Oxford, O. as they rolled up a decisive 45-6 victory. Scoring in every period, Bowling Green was no match for the powerful Redskins' running and passing attack. Bee Gee was badly handicapped by the loss of many first stringers.

It was late in the first quarter when Miami scored the first of its seven touchdowns. Driving from its own 32 yard line Miami rolled up five first downs with Lee Tevis, a powerful Marine halfback, going over from the seven yard line.

In the second period Miami scored 20 of its 45 points. They recovered a Bowling Green fumble on the 20 yard line and on the first play Russell passed to Gall in the end zone for the score. A few plays later Miami intercepted a Bowling Green pass on the Miami 42. Six plays later Dougherty plunged two yards for the score. Before the end of the half the Russell to Gall combination clicked again for 59 yards and another score, making it 28-0 at the end of the first half.

In the third quarter Tevis, who was a hard runner all day for Miami, ran 19 yards for Miami's fifth touchdown. In the same period Bob Babcock was hit attempting to pass and the ball fell into the waiting hands of Gall, Miami end who raced 45 yards for the touchdown. Their last score came in the final period when Freeze went over from the two.

Coach Gauthier Is Last Mentor

George E. Gauthier, head football coach at Ohio Wesleyan, who will stage his Battling Bishops against the Falcons this Saturday at Delaware, O. is the last remaining old-time coach in the state who has a football schedule this year.

His only two close competitors from the standpoint of length of service at one school are Harry Baujan of Dayton and Don Peden of Ohio University. Both these coaches have had to drop football this year.

"Little G", as he is known in grid circles, took over the reins at Ohio Wesleyan in 1921. A year previous he had served as director of recreation in Bay City, Michigan, where he built six play grounds, a community recreation center and a summer camp.

After attending Western high school in Detroit the Bishop mentor played varsity football in 1912 and 1913 at Michigan State, and never participated in a losing game. Weighing 133 pounds (dripping wet) at the time, he was varsity quarterback.

From 1914 to 1920 Gauthier was assistant football coach, head basketball coach and head track coach at Michigan State. During the year of 1917 when he served as head football coach for a brief period his team defeated Notre Dame 12-9, breaking Knute Rockne's three-year string of victories.

His all-time record at Ohio Wesleyan is 108 wins, 76 losses and 13 ties.

Coach Gauthier's son, Cadet Richard Gauthier, is now stationed at Bowling Green in the V-5 unit.

Bowling Green's lone tally came in the final period on a fine pass from Babcock to Mohr, who played a fine game all day for the Falcons.

The statistics rather tell the story of the game. Miami had 16 first downs to Bee Gee's 5 and scored 239 yards rushing to Bee Gee's 7. Miami also scored 145 yards on the Russell to Gall passing combination.

Barbara DeWitt Rides In Show

Barbara DeWitt, freshman student at Bowling Green from Cleveland Heights, placed second in the Bridle Path Hack division in the horse show staged at the Cleveland Cavalry in Shaker Heights on November 4, 5 and 6.

Barbara also entered the Pairs Class and the Road Hack divisions along with the Bridle Path Hack division where the walk, trot, and canter are stressed. This type of riding is similar to pleasure riding and is suitable for the bridle path.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hedden, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwinn, and Jean Robinson also attended the show in Cleveland.

Unbeaten

A survey of the undefeated and untied team of the nation shows that there are fifteen college teams with such a record including service teams. Bunker Hill Naval Training Station, Bowling Green's former opponent, has uncrossed goal lines.

V-5's Rigid Training

By JOHN GRIBLE

Physical training at its peak can be found right here on the Bee Gee campus led by Lt. (j.g.) Siwert and instructor Warren E. Stellar. The V-5 cadets go through the most rigid training the Navy can dish out . . . mile runs . . . cross country runs . . . obstacle courses . . . are all part of the daily P.T. program. As the new cadet enters Bowling Green he is welcomed into the recesses of the "natatorium" for a stiff two weeks of swimming. Swimming is first on the "must" list of every naval cadet. Intense gymnastics are next, with mile runs in six minutes and a five hundred and sixty yard obstacle course in two minutes and forty seconds. Outstanding records have been hung up by various cadets . . . take honors Cadet Mikitka for a top notch one minute and fifty nine second obstacle course. Cadet Peck pushed himself right up into first place with fifty push-ups. As the cadet becomes a Naval Aviator he has behind him sixteen months of rigid naval training. He can take it as well as dish it out.

Bowling Green Places Fourth In Ohio Gridiron Contest

The Bowling Green Falcons are placed fourth in the Ohio grid race, with five wins, one tie and two losses. The Falcons have scored 174 points and held their opponents to 72.

Oberlin is leading with five wins and one tie. Oberlin's 20-0 triumph over an out-classed Bethany eleven, coupled with Miami upsetting Bowling Green, 45-6, gave Oberlin's gridgers a hold on the number one spot in the Ohio gridiron standings. A tie with powerful DePauw is the only blot on the Oberlin record.

In winning its fifth victory in six starts, Oberlin's hard-driving eleven scored once in the second period and twice in the third.

An underdog Case contingent defeated Baldwin-Wallace, 19-0, Ohio Wesleyan upset the dope by trouncing Wooster, 21-13 and the Redskins of Miami bowled over the Bee Gee squad.

The Case Scientists surprised even themselves by turning two pass interceptions into touchdowns and passing for a third while holding Baldwin-Wallace scoreless.

Hall's Gremlins Master Speedball

SPEEDBALL: The Gremlins won a 6-0 victory over the Luckies. Barbara Wolcott, Arlene Stearns, and Clara Jean Miller each scored two points. The Dribblers lost 10-6 when they played the Spuds last week.

June Smith's Spuds had a 6-2 lead at the half but Lucille Pope's Dribblers fought harder the second half making the score 10-6 at the end. Jene Kohls made 6 points, Janet Hartzel and Anita Chase each scored 2 points for the Spuds. Lucille Pope made 4 and Janey Rothe scored 2 points for the Dribblers. In making the goals the teams used mostly the forward pass.

Battling Bishops Get Chance To Rebound This Saturday

The Wesleyan Bishops having pried the lid off of the Falcon grid schedule here on the Bee Gee gridiron, will have their chance to rebound this week end when the Falcons travel to Delaware, O.

Last year Coach George Gauthier's Battling Bishops won a thriller 15 to 14 after squelching a last quarter rally staged by Coach Bob Whittaker's men.

However, in the battle at the beginning of the season the Wesleyan team completed 14 out of 22 passes attempted, but they fell short as the Bowling Green Falcons won 18 to 7.

Glendening, Richey, Woods and McFarland of the Bishops lateral-ed and short-passed deep into Falcon territory, but met with no success.

Ohio Wesleyan defeated the Wooster eleven in a return battle last week-end. Earlier in the season Wooster pounced the Bishops 22-16.

The Bishops held the Miamimen to 29 points a few weeks ago, while the Hurricanes chalked up 45 against the Falcons last week-end.

In spite of the fine Falcon record of five wins, one tie and two losses, one must remember that the Whittaker T. has been shattered to bits due to the loss of marines transferred to Parris Island.

The Bishops, having lost only a very few stars in the V-12 unit, are indeed the favored eleven. Having gained two high cards from the Oberlin squad recently makes them more stable than ever before. Waters, a 190 pound fullback, and Heck, a triple-threat tailback are both aces from the undefeated Oberlin eleven.

Ohio Wesleyan has bowed to such teams as Wooster, Baldwin-Wallace, Oberlin, Miami and DePauw, but defeated Bethany.

This decisive battle sews-up the football season for both teams.

Swimming Team Is Uncertainty

At the present time there has been no final decision as to whether Bowling Green will have a swimming team.

Three major problems confront the athletic staff and unless they are solved it looks doubtful that we will swim this year. They are:

First, whether or not the team may secure the pool for practice. It is in use by the V-12 and civilians from early in the morning until 9:00 at night.

Second, the problem of transportation becomes more serious every day. It is rumored that there will be even less gas this winter than there was last winter.

Third, the only other team is known to be Oberlin. They too, have a V-12 unit on their campus.

Last night a meeting was held by all the men interested in having a team. These problems were discussed along with a few other less important ones. As yet no announcement has been made of the results of that meeting.

Mardi Gras Theme Suggested By Las Amigas Campus Dance

A Masquerade Ball sans masks which is scheduled for Friday night replaces the traditional Hallowe'en Dance sponsored by Las Amigas. While the theme suggests a Mardi Gras, the traditional event, this year the dancers will NOT mask or wear costumes.

Masks of all sizes, shapes, and descriptions will form the backdrop for the Navy-Marine band, which will play tunes for the unmasked dancers from 8:30 to 11:30 in the Recreation Hall. All students, both service men and civilians, will be admitted upon presentation of their activity cards.

Mary Holt and Dorothy Krosnosky, co-chairmen of the dance are working with the following committees: decorations, Alice Knoble and Helen Pannak; refreshments, Esther Davis, and invitations, Wilma Stone.

Saturday night, the YWCA is bringing something new, a Community Sing leader, to the campus in the person of Walter (Andy) Anderson. The B.G. representatives at the Geneva Conference liked "Andy" so well last summer that they wanted EVERYONE here at B.G. to sing right along with him.

"Andy" will lead his Community Singing at the Falcons Nest from 8:00 to 11:00. The committee which was instrumental in bringing "Andy" to the campus consisted of Helen Strobel, Lois Zank, Wilma Stone, Marjorie Fittin, and Carol Allison.

YWCA president, Helen Strobel, will introduce "Andy" to the student body.

Girls Are Elected To Orchestra Offices

Officers of the University orchestra were elected at the last meeting. Wilma Brewer is the new president; Alice Walbolt, vice president; Alda Douthett, business manager, and the librarians, Emerita Schroer and Julia Meek.

An invitation is extended by Miss Virginia Kerschner, director, to all V-12 students to come to the rehearsal at 7 p.m. Monday in the band room.

String players and oboists are also needed.

John Barber Is New Beta Gamma Head

John Barber was elected president of Beta Gamma Upsilon fraternity to replace former president Paul Smythe, V-12 student, who left Bowling Green November 1.

Other officers are: George McClain, vice president; Dick Merrill, secretary; Eugene Beatty, treasurer.

In the election Thursday night Dick Merrill was also appointed pledge master.

A candle light pledge service was held for new pledge, Walter Greeley, Navy V-12 student.

The pledges will entertain the active members at a party Thursday evening.

New YM President Plans Activities

Chapel programs, public speakers, and dances are a few of the YMCA plans for the year, according to Allen Beidelschies, newly elected president.

Other officers are: Don Flack, vice-president; Don Kuhlman, secretary, and Bob Jorris, treasurer. Allen Beidelschies replaces Duane Kidwell, V-12 student, who left Bowling Green November 1.

Despite the man shortage, the Y has 21 members, and they are planning to send a representative to the all-state meeting in Columbus Friday.

Las Amigas Has New Patroness

Mrs. W. E. Steidtmann has become a new patroness of the Las Amigas Sorority and began her new duties last Tuesday night.

An open house party was given for the servicemen at the Las Amigas house last Sunday evening. Entertainment consisted of informal games and singing.

Twenty alumnae returned for the Homecoming game and a buffet supper afterwards. Other guests were Dean Audrey K. Wilder, Mrs. Wied of Indianapolis, Miss Grace Wills, Mrs. Steidtmann, and Mrs. Loveland.

Returning alumnae were: Jean Mercereau, Marjorie Black, Betty Loveland, Joan Brown, Lois Holtmeyer, Miriam Shuler, Betty Zimmermann, Barbara Bower, and Gene Gordon.

Post-War Meeting Reported By Girls

Four girls from the Business Education department reported a meeting on Post-War plans for the Bowling Green area Thursday evening.

The program consisted of a Panel Discussion of post-war problems by nine representatives of various fields of activities in the community.

Helen Henkelman, Jane Brumby, Jean Powell, and Gloria Speers took down the address in shorthand and transcribed it.

A summary of the discussions will be made from the transcriptions and will be submitted to the 35 or 40 organizations represented.

Comdr. Kipke Visits Campus

The Naval Air training program at Bowling Green State University, consisting of V-5 cadets, continues to play an important part in the war effort by turning out aviation cadets who are later expected to become some of the finest pilots in the world.

The cadets, none over 26, receive a strenuous course of flight instruction and ground school. Before having been accepted into the program, they must pass a rigorous physical examination and a most difficult mental examination. After acceptance they are taken through five steps of primary training.

First the cadet is assigned to "Tarmac" duty on the flight line of a naval air station where he learns basic maintenance and operational practices. Then he attends Flight Preparatory School, where for three months he gets rigid academic training, with emphasis on physics and mathematics. There are 17 of these in the United States, including two in Ohio; Wooster College, Wooster, and Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware.

From these schools the cadet is sent to a CAA—War Training Service School such as Bowling Green State University—he learns the rudiments of flying during 30 to 40 hours of instruction in light planes. He also learns to solo.

From the CAA-WTS unit, the Cadet moves to Pre-Flight School, where stress is laid on physical conditioning to prepare him for the rigors of modern air warfare. There are five of these schools in the United States, located at: Athens, Georgia; Chapel Hill, North Carolina; Del Monte, California; Iowa City, Iowa; and St. Mary's, California. Cadets from Bowling Green State University generally go to Iowa City.

The last step is ground school and flight training at one of Naval Air Primary Training Command's Naval Air Stations, where he learns acrobatics, formation flying, aerial navigation and other phases of aviation under the tutelage of experienced Navy and Marine Corps instructors.

HIRAM MOTHERWELL

"The Peace We Fight For" is the topic of the lecture by Hiram Motherwell, foreign correspondent, who opens the current Wood County Public Forum series Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Senior High School auditorium.

Students will be admitted to the lecture for half price or may purchase season tickets for $1.00, half the regular price.

Hiram Motherwell was for many years foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, and spent five years after World War I in Germany. He covered the revolution, the Ruhr invasion, and witnessed the inflation period.

Head of the Rome bureau of the Daily News from 1924 to 1928, Mr. Motherwell returned to this country in 1929 and published "The Imperial Dollar", a study of the war's effect on social and economic life.

Campus Visitors Are Pleased With Inter-Sorority Spirit

There have been many visitors to Bowling Green's campus in the past few weeks, and these visitors have said some pretty nice things about our University that should be passed along.

Many of them, especially sorority girls, have expressed surprise at the friendships existing among the various sororities. On many campuses such good will does not exist, and the fact that we have it here in Bowling Green is something of which to be proud. The promotion of friendship is in itself enough to justify the existence of such organizations.

The course is between 16 and 18 months. As cadets, students are paid $75 per month until they receive commissions. They have a difficult program and are active from 6:30 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. The program here, as at other CAP-WTS schools, is complete, and high averages must be maintained. Any grades in ground school below 2.5 is failing (4.0 is perfect), and in Navigation the cadet must maintain a 3.5 average or attend make-up classes.

All flying is done at Bricker Field, located about one quarter mile from the campus, and under the direct supervision of Ray G. Vaughan, flight contractor for the Navy's flight training school. Assisting Mr. Vaughan are Gene Fitch, chief flight instructor and 17 civilian instructors.

The Flight Preparatory and CAA-WTS units formerly were under the direction of 14 Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Boards, which are now functioning as regional offices of NAPTC. Bowling Green WTS school is under the Detroit, Michigan regional office of which Lt. Comdr. H. G. Kipke, U.S.N.R., is officer in charge.

The entire command is under Rear Admiral Elliott Buckmaster, U.S.N., Chief of Naval Air Primary Training. Its other units consist of the five mentioned Pre-Flight Schools and 14 Naval Air Stations, scattered throughout the United States. Commander John E. Harlin is Superintendent of Aviation Training for the Command.

In charge of the Naval Air Training Program here is Lieutenant Robert E. Jones, U.S.N.R., of Columbus, Ohio, his official title being Resident Naval Officer in charge.

Sorority Sing United Groups

Tuesday night the Panhellenic Council held a sorority sing in the Practical Arts building to present the Esther Russell Scholarship cup to the sorority having the highest point average for the semester.

Ione Geisel led group singing after which each organization sang one of its sorority songs.

Following the sing refreshments were served and an open discussion was conducted by Dean Audrey K. Wilder concerning the proposed quota systems for the sororities. Many questions were raised in regard to this subject but no definite conclusion was reached.

This occasion proved to be an excellent way in which to create a feeling of good will and fellowship among the sororities, Panhellenic members said. Since the Sing was so successful it has been adopted as a campus tradition.

Messiah Chorus Holds First Rehearsal

Approximately 125 people came to the first rehearsal of the "Messiah" Thursday evening. Any persons familiar with the score are still eligible to sing in this production.

Next practice will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Practical Arts Auditorium.

More definite information of the orchestra and professional soloists will be given soon.

He has written magazine articles recently on conditions in post-war Germany, and last year published his book which has the same title as his lecture.

First Campus 'Teen Party To Be Sunday In Rec Hall

The first Campus 'Teen Party for service men sponsored by the YWCA will be held this Sunday night at 7 p.m. in the Rec Hall, Maxine Campbell, general chairman, announced today.

It is to be in the form of an open house and all campus navy men are urged to attend and to "make themselves right at home". A variety of entertainment has been arranged and there will be something to interest everyone.

The following girls will serve as hostesses for the affair: Ann Antypas, Carol Bame, Dorothy, Booser, Betty Breneman, Marjorie Busdicker, Jane Byrnes, Martha Campbell, Kay Carras, Patricia Cloos, Kathryn Cook, Mary Ann Davis, Mary K. Davis, Jeanne Derr, Eloise Dibert, Barbara Fish, Opal Ford, Marjorie Fordyce, Arlene Gottfried, Wilma Granger, Ethel Grover.

Janet Holtmeyer, Margery Hopkins, Naomi Jordahl, Joanne Jones, Jean Kellermeyer, Betty Ruth Krabill, Dorothy Krosnosky, Analie Lind, Mary Jane Lloyd, Martha Lown, Dorothy Main, Mary May, Carol McCartney, Marian McGinn, Doris Miller, Evelyn Moyer, Phyllis Naegele, Haroldine Palmiter, Patty Pennypacker, Lucile Pope, Lucy Rickel, Martha Ritzhaupt, Jane Rothe, Vera Schwartz, Mary Sitterle, Ruth Snell, Marilyn Stilgenbauer, Aldora Tobin, Sue Tonkin, Eleanor Winsor, Ellen Canfield, and Helen Bircher.

The rooms were last painted in 1939 by WPA labor. It takes 200 gallons of paint for the dormitory, E. V. Kreischer, University business manager, said today.

New Librarian Is B. G. Alumna

Miss Helen Fashbaugh is an alumna of the University who has returned as a librarian.

Miss Fashbaugh is a native Ohioan from Delta, where she attended its public schools. Graduating from Bowling Green with an A.B. degree she continued her education at the University of Illinois, where she received her L.S. and B.S. degrees. While in Bowling Green, Miss Fashbaugh was an active figure on the campus and a member of Five Sister Sorority.

Several hobbies claim her leisure hours. Befitting a librarian, she rates reading high. She likes especially the modern novelists and names Dos Passas as one favorite. Music is another one of her interests and she collects both popular and classical records. Her interest in music is enhanced by the fact that she is able to play both the piano and the violin.

Aside from the music and reading angles, Miss Fashbaugh admits the Annie Oakley influence and says she likes to shoot a rifle.

Pi Omega Pi Has First Meeting

Members of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary Business Education fraternity, met for the first time Wednesday evening.

Many ideas for future programs were submitted and discussed.

The executive board will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Practical Arts Building to make plans for the pledge service December 1.

Quill Type Will Hold Initiation Ceremony

A group of Business Education majors and minors expressed their wish to become members of Quill-Type, Business Education Club Wednesday evening. These students will be initiated November 13 in Studio B at 7 p.m.

Miss Nellie Ogle of the Business Education department gave the activities and aims of the club.
